OFFICE / FINANCIAL INFORMATION:

Appointments with each clinician of Bearden Behavioral Health are set by mutual agreement between the clinician and the client. Except for the Initial Evaluation, sessions last 45-50 minutes. Clients must call to inform the office of appointment cancellations at least 24 hours in advance in order to avoid charges for missed sessions.

Insurance co-pays are due at the beginning of each session. All fees and copays must be paid at the time of the appointment. Should your insurance claim be denied, you are responsible for payment of your treatment. Payments for sessions may be made by cash or credit card (Visa, MasterCard and American Express are accepted). Checks will not be accepted.

Any amount owed by a client will be sent a statement at the end of each month. Should payment or payment arrangements not be made within thirty (30) days of invoice date, all unpaid balances will be sent to a collection agency for non-payment. At this time, you understand and agree that the money owed to Bearden Behavioral Health will be collected by the collection agency plus a forty (40) percent collection fee.

Bearden Behavioral Health & Associates will not complete forms or provide specialized records for clients to obtain or maintain disability income, work or school leave, FMLA, or for court or legal cases. Bearden Behavioral Health and Associates will not bill disability/ worker's compensation insurance companies or client's attorneys, or get involved in disability or legal/court cases.

Bearden Behavioral Health & Associates is not able to accept TennCare or any form of Medicaid insurance.

If client is using health insurance to pay for sessions:

I authorize the release of any medical or other information necessary to process insurance claims.

I authorize payment of medical benefits to the treatment professional for services provided to me.

CONSENT FOR MENTAL HEALTH EVALUATION, THERAPY AND TREATMENT

Name of Client _____ DOB: _____

Name of Parent (if client is child) _____

Psychotherapy is both a way of understanding human behavior and of helping people with their emotional difficulties and personal problems. Psychotherapy typically starts with an assessment of problematic symptoms and maladaptive behaviors that often intrude into a person's social life, personal relationships, school or work activities, and physical health. Specific psychotherapeutic strategies may be employed to alleviate specific problems causing distress such as depression, anxiety or relationship problems. Self-knowledge is seen as an important key to changing attitudes and behavior. Psychotherapy may involve the development of insight as to how our physical health may be compromised in many ways by emotional and relationship issues. Therapy is designed to help clients of all ages understand how their feelings and thoughts affect the ways they act, react, and relate to others. Whether or not therapy works depends a great deal on the client's willingness and ability to experience all relationships deeply, especially the therapeutic relationship. Each client has a unique opportunity to view themselves more accurately, and to make connections between past and current conflicts that illuminate the way one relates to one's self and to others. Clients are encouraged to talk about thoughts and feelings that arise in therapy, especially feelings toward the therapist. These feelings are important because elements of one's history of important affections and hostilities toward parents and siblings or significant others are often shifted onto the therapist and the process of therapy. Psychotherapy can be relatively short term (8 to 16 weeks) when the focus is limited to resolve specific symptoms or problem areas, or longer term if the treatment focus targets more pervasive or long-standing difficulties. When the client feels she or he has accomplished the desired goals, then a termination date can be set. Psychotherapy aims to help people experience life more deeply, enjoy more satisfying relationships, resolve personal conflicts, and better integrate all the parts of their personalities.

I, the undersigned whose name appears above, wish to participate as a client in clinical interviews, therapy, counseling, and other mental health services to be performed by Bearden Behavioral Health and Associates. I (client or parent) request these services on my own accord.

Information about clients will not be shared by Bearden Behavioral Health without the client's permission, in accordance with HIPAA regulations. Bearden Behavioral Health and Associates will however release information about clients when clients threaten to harm themselves or others, or if such a threat is suspected. If the client is involved in legal or court-related issues, information will be shared if a valid subpoena is received. The clinicians of Bearden Behavioral Health retain the right to use client information, with identification hidden, for professional activities such as teaching or writing.

Professional skills will be provided in good faith, but there is not a guarantee of outcome. You are encouraged to ask questions about the professional process.

EMERGENCIES:

You may telephone or arrange for telepsych services with your therapist in an emergency. Your therapist is not always immediately available by phone and may not be available in the evening. If unavailable, your call will be returned as soon as possible. If your therapist is unavailable, or you have an emergency, you should call 911; telephone a crisis line; or proceed to a psychiatric emergency facility. For emergencies/crisis team services call mobile crisis for adults at 865-539-2409 or for children call 865-791-9224.

ARBITRATION/MEDIATION:

I agree to address any grievances I may have directly with my therapist immediately. If we cannot settle the matter between us, then a jointly agreed-upon outside consultation will be sought. If not, an arbitration process will be initiated, which will be considered as a complete resolution and legally binding decision under state law. By signing this contract you are agreeing to have any issue of medical or psychological malpractice decided by neutral arbitration and you are giving up your right to a jury or court trial. It is understood that any dispute as to medical malpractice, that is as to whether any medical services rendered under this contract were unnecessary or unauthorized or were improperly rendered, will be determined by submission to arbitration as provided by Tennessee law and in accordance with the rules of the American Arbitration Association, and not by lawsuit or resort to court process except as Tennessee law provides for judicial review or arbitration proceedings. Both parties to this contract, by entering into it, are giving up their constitutional right to have any such dispute decided in a court of law before a jury, and instead are accepting the use of arbitration. Any arbitration process will be considered as a complete resolution and legally binding decision. The client will be responsible for the costs of this process. In agreeing to treatment, you are consenting to the above identified grievance procedures

I understand that I may end mental health services with Bearden Behavioral Health at any time of my choosing.
